CRYSTAL Pools is one of Australia's longest operating and most experienced pool builders being in business for nearly 60 years.

Crystal Pools sales and marketing manager Andrew Rothery says that people understand that a well-crafted pool adds value to the home.

"We've built a reputation in the industry and wider community by ensuring our pools are always well thought out and visually stunning," Mr Rothery said.

Crystal Pools designs pools for all sites, residential and commercial, as well as special plunge pools for small yards.

The company's residential pools are mainly built in the greater Sydney metropolitan area, while commercial-sized works are carried out around the country.

"Over the decades Crystal has experimented with other construction technologies yet remains convinced concrete in-ground pools are vastly superior to any other construction method available," Mr Rothery said.

"Both aesthetically and functionally, Crystal Pools are known for pools that stand the test of time.

"And from day one of use, a Crystal pool is one that looks fabulous and architecturally functional for both the home and its occupants."

Since its establishment in 1957 Crystal Pools has won more than 120 major state, national and international pool awards.

For the last three years running, Crystal Pools has won a host of major awards at the NSW Master Builders Association (MBA) Awards for both its residential and Commercial pools. Crystal Pools is a long standing member of the MBA, the Housing Industry Association and the National Swimming Pool Institute.
